Meeting of the Legislature, Tre Legislature, which meets at Madison to hastery of our State. The People, at the electron last November, disposeessed the party who have held sway to Wisconsin ever since the organization of the State Government, and tr naforred the powe to other, and lot us hope, more deserving hands The Republican majority, composed at it is, it great part, of new men, have no casy tank before them. Yet the field is an inviting one, and they cannot fail to win the applause of their constituents, if they do their duty fearlessly

It is expected of the Legislature elect that it will practice a rigid economy in regard to all public (xpenditures; that it will about all unnuccessry offices and retrench every superfluous salary, that it will stop some, at least, of the many leaks which keep the treasury so low and the taxe, so high; that it will prefer well-doing to much speaking, acts to words; that it will confine he session within moderate limits and cut down the Lagislative expenses to a ressonable sum; that it will institute a rigid scrutiny into the acts of the School Land Commissione at I the management of the School Monies, and adopt such measures as will guard this precious

Fond against waste, or abuse, and the School f ands the master from becoming the prey of grasping speculators; and last, but not least, that at will make choice of a sound, reliable and avowed Repushioan; and none other, to represent this State in the Senate of the United States. The People look to the Legislature to do each and all of these things and they will not, we treat, look in vain.

We shall endeavour to keep our readers fully acteuod, from day to-day, of all that transpires In Mad son, and the better to do so, Mr. WATSON leaves sere this morning for the Capital, where Le proposes to remain during the Semion.

District of Wisconsin:

The Grand Inquest for the January Term, 1955, respectfully represent that they have found averall bills for resisting and obstructing process in the hands of the Marshal. Believing that the laws caunot be enforced or justice administred, if the officers who are bound to execute process are not protected in their duty, we have felt constrained under the evidence presented to find those bills. We have regretted to see that two daily papers published in the city, the Free Democrat and Sentimet defend to see that two daily papers published in the city, the Free Democrat and Sentimet defend to see that two daily papers published in the city, the Free Democrat and Sentimet defend to see that two daily papers and abusive was the heavy of the press, which is process and papers are, in our options, prejudicial to the administration of justice, and submit that if persecting against their publishers.

We have only to say for ourselves, in reply that they out the publishers. We have only to say for ourselves, in reply to this presentment, that each and every allegation made against the Sentiael is wilfully and nicked by FALSE. We have neither defended those ' who result the due execution of process," nor intulged in "threats," or "abusive misreptements trons," touching the Court, its office a and jayors. Indeed, instead of the Sentinel having heatled the Grand Jury, it is the Grand Jury, who have grossly and mexcusably libelled the Sent of and were the game worth the candle we would "present" them accordingly and call upon the District Attorney to "institute proedit ga" against the offenders. But no doubt, they are ashamed of themselves, by this time, and heartily sorry that they did so foolish a thing So let them go !

" FUNNING THE THIRG INTO THE GROUND "-The News in its obsequious haste to whitewash the Court, its officers and jurors, rather overdoes the matter. Read, for instance, this truthful and "unprejudiced" paragraph :

The Missourians who, under the lead of Sensor Aronison, elected a Pro-Slavery Delegate for Kansas and thus inaugurated, in that new Territory, the "peculiar institution" of the South, are by no means disposed to rest upon their laurels. On the contrary, encouraged by their first success, they already contemplate further measures, look ing to the same end. On Obristmas day, a large meeting of the catizens of Lafayette County, Mismuri, was held, " to consider the present condition and prospects of Kansos Territory " At this meeting the following explicit resolution was

That slavery now exists in the territory of Kan That slavery new exists in the terminy of anisas, by the free will and choice of the citizens there of, and that we will use all lawful means to aid and sustain the people of said territory in protecting themselves and their property from any encroschments of their rights, by abolition so-

From whatever point of view, therefore, th From whatever point of view, thereine, an subject is regarded, whether as a question of express or implied power, the conclusion is the same, that Congress has no constitutional authority to carry on a system of internal improvements; and in this conviction the system has been steadily opposed by the soundest expositors of the functions of the Government.

Having demonstrated this point to his own and sign bills conforming to these rules, he closes his message with these general reflections: ty had not come to look to Congress for appropriations of this nature, soveral of the States, whose productions or geographical position invited foreign commerce, had entered upon plans for the improvement of their harbors by themselves, and through menns of support drawn directly from that commerce, to virtile of an express constitutional power, needing for its excisis only the permission of Congress. Harbor improvements thus constructed and maintained, the expenditures upon them boug defraged by the very facilities they afford, are a voluntary charge on those only who see fit to avait themselves of such facilities, and can be justly complained of by none. On the other hand, so long as these improvements are carried on by appropriations from the tressury, the benefits will continue to ingre to those alone who enjoy the facilities afforded, while the expenditure will be a burden upon the whole country, and the discrimination a double injury to places equally requiring improvement, but not equally favored by appropriations.

These considerations, added to the embarassments of the whole question, amply suffice to suggest the policy of confining appropriations by the general Government to works necessary to the experiments States, to be provided for out of their own resources, or by recurrences to the provision of the Constitution, which authoriess the States to lay duties of tonnage with the consent of Congress.

INTERESTING TRIAL ABOUT THE SON OF FIVE CENTS—HEATY DAMAGE —An importer radicate case has recently been tried at Norwich, Conn. It occupied nearly all of last week, and was brought to a close ou Wednesday of this week. The plaintiff is Crocker, a sen-faring man, who was ejected from the care between New-Lon ion and Norwich. The detailures at New London. ected from the case of week in the New London, Norwich. The defendant is the New London, Willimsatic and Palmer Railroad Company. The facts our readers may remember. In Jecember been steadily opposed by the soundest exponents of the functions of the Government.

Having demonstrated this point to his own satisfaction, the President proceeds to review the acts and opinions of Congress and of his predecessors, with the view, apparently, of showing that no fixed rule exists, to decide "what of the infinite variety of possible river and harbor improvements, are within the scepe of the power delegated by the Constitution." From this, the Message passos to the consideration "of the measure of discretion" in the exercise by Googress of the power to provide for the improvement of rivers and harbors, and of the executive responsibility in the name relation. The conclusions arrived at are, that "radical changes" are demanded, by the public interest, "in the equired for large of the power of legislation in these matters," and specially these two, to wit:

1. A return to the primitive idea of Congress which required in this class of public works, and mall others, a conveyance of the soil, and an all others, a conveyance of the soil, and are succession of the junction for every work in a separate bill, so that each one shall stand on its own independent ments, and, if it pass, that have a proper subject of charge on the Treasury of the distance of the proper subject of charge on the Treasury of the distance of the proper subject of charge on the Treasury of the distance of the proper subject of charge on the Treasury of the distance of the proper subject of charge on the Treasury of the distance of the proper subject of charge on the Treasury of the distance of the proper subject of charge on the Treasury of the distance of the care and proper subject of charge on the Treasury of the distance of the proper subject of charge on the Treasury of the distance of the proper subject of charge on the Treasury of the distance of the proper subject of charge on the Treasury of the distance of the proper subject of charge on the Treasury of the distance of the proper subject of charge on the Treasury of the d that we cannot do better than to copy it.

"The lesson taught to statesmen and refor by the life of Algernon Sydney is usdeed a training one. Never was the cause of consticutional liberty in England apparently in a hopeless condition, than when the highest bed justice was digraced by the inhuman ribs of Jeffreys, who brutally set at defiance exprinciple of equity and law, as he scoffed at ery humane sentiment, and made the self-soc cing exertions of the patriotic, and the safe-sirinue of the devour, alike the objects of coarse mackery. Yet his descent from that p elevation of seeming impunity and power swift as the judgments of Heaven, and that w appeared to be the permanent tramph of it tree and oppression over liberty served our rouse a spirit which was speedily to be its terrible avenger and restorer. The insolence which the tools of arbitrary power use their ment of victory, the violent measures into w which the tools of arbitrary power use their ment of victory, the violent measures into withey are hurled while intoxicated with auc and the impatient score with which they away the old restraints of decency and law sacred corpacts, are inductions of that inst which must lead to their speedy downfall, whole history of the English people, from days when the earliest chaffers of freedom exterted from the haughty Edward I., thr Chaffes I and James II, down to the separ of these American Colonius from the mountry, goes to abow that the gueatest gathe side of popular rights has almost invaluently just at the epoch when these who hell government were rioting most insolemly i exercise and extension of their power."

I'ex York, i'an 8 A Correspondence has taken place between Maj General Wool and the Secretary of War, drawn forth by a letter from the former to the latter in regard to the management of the Division of the Army upon the Pacific coast. Gen Wool complains that his efforts to carry the instruction of the department with efficiency and to the best advantage to the government, have been met by a rebuke if not by direct censure The letter bears date of October 12th, and a replied to on the 13th of December Col Davis censures the official acts of Gen Wool in a dispassionate manner and assumes the amplied rebule to which Gen Wool taken exception, 1 justified by the circumstances of the case. The Secretary intimates that some of General Wool's acts are inexplicable denies his claim to having established peace in the country under his command and says he is awaiting explanations in regard to certain movements of the General in cerrying out his plans The Secretary conclude you forcibly describe as equal in extent, to an smp re, you have railed to sustain the confidence placed in you seems to be cause for regret rathe
